ICPT

Pelvic Health India Summit 2026

7 December 2026 • Navi Mumbai, India

“Partnering to Advance Pelvic Health Across Borders, Disciplines and Generations.”

ABOUT THE SUMMIT

Where Pelvic Health Meets Global Ambition

The ICPT Pelvic Health India Summit 2026 is India’s first and only international conference exclusively dedicated to pelvic floor rehabilitation, women’s health physiotherapy, and continence care. Hosted in Navi Mumbai — the fastest-growing urban centre adjoining India’s financial capital — this summit unites world-class science, clinical education, and industry innovation on a single stage.

Over the course of one transformative day, leading practitioners, emerging clinicians, researchers, and healthcare organizations from across India, South Asia, and the international community will converge to define the next chapter of pelvic health in the region. This is not merely a conference — it is a movement, and your brand can be at its forefront.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Why Partner With the Pelvic Health India Summit?

Mumbai is the undisputed commercial nerve centre of India — home to the nation’s largest concentration of corporate headquarters, healthcare enterprises, and international trade networks. Brands that activate here send a message of ambition and credibility to an audience that is ready to engage, adopt, and advocate.

The physiotherapy profession in India is at an inflection point. Demand for pelvic health services is surging; awareness is rising; and purchasing decisions for clinical equipment, software, and rehabilitation tools are being made now. The ICPT Organizing Committee has deliberately structured this summit to bridge the gap between clinical excellence and commercial growth — because a profession thrives only when its practitioners and its industry advance in step.
